

Who are the police officers in your city? La Crosse will attempt an answer to that. The city police department is starting something new on the department's Facebook page. "Get to Know Your Officers." In an announcement about the new program, the department cites retirements and turnover in the department as reason to highlight members of the department on Facebook. First up: Chief Ed Kondracki. His picture, a brief bio, and the chief's favorite motto, "Focus on the Positive."
