Right back to jail for a guy in La Crosse after a tussle with his girlfriend this week-end. Cops say 25 year-old Timothy Thurston isn't supposed to have contact with his girlfriend, but he got out of the pokey and went right to her northside place on Saturday. Apparently everything was going fine and then they started to fight. And then he started to beat her. And strangle her. Took awhile for the girlfriend to call the cops because Thurston broke her phone. Cops say he was passed out in the bedroom when they got there. He's still in jail today.
