Several local judges could face discipline for signing recall petitions. The Wisconsin Judicial Commission is expected to decide this week whether 29 circuit court judges around the state should face some sort of discipline for signing recall petitions for governor Walker. From La Crosse county, circuit court judges Ramona Gonzalez, Todd Bjerke and Dale Pasell signed the recall petitions. Judge J. David Rice in Monroe county signed. As did Trempealeau county judge John Damon, Jackson county judge Thomas Lister and Vernon county circuit court judge Michael Rosborough.
