

Last week we learned that Govenor Scott Walker had raised over 25 million towards his recall campaign. A state record by most accounts. And if you think that number is high, Mike McCabe of the Wisconsin Democracy Campaign says you have seen nothing yet.

Most of the money coming in, according to McCabe, is coming in from out of state donor's who cannot even vote in today's recall primary election.