

Search For Missing Boater Goes On In Winona

Sunday, 20 May 2012 21:27 -

The search for a man who fell out of a boat at Winona is expected to continue this week...

Ralph Andring went into the Mississippi near the Winona bridge on Thursday. He wasn't able to catch a life vest thrown to him by the other man in the boat. Search crews have spent three days looking for Andring, who owned a heating and air conditioning business.
