

Rembrandt. Monet. Da Vinci. Bryant Koscianski isn't any of those guys. Not even close, say La Crosse police. The 21 year-old Koscianski has been busted for painting. Tagging dozens of times, say cops. They say he's been particularly prolific about his spray-painted graffiti around the city's parking garages. 13 cases. Thousands in fines. Cops say they found 150 cans of spray paint at Koscianski's place in Onalaska and a spot where he practiced his graffiti techniques. Koscianski also faces charges for over a million dollars in tagging damage he's done in Minnesota
