

Police Say Woman Raped Downtown by Stranger

Monday, 13 August 2012 10:47 -

Police are investigating a violent sexual assault from early Sunday morning in La Crosse. Police say a young woman was walking alone away from the Jay street parking ramp after bartime downtown when she was grabbed from behind, thrown down on the concrete between Subway and the Holiday Inn and raped. Police have only a very general description and, at this point, no suspects.
