

County Turns To Consultant For Lakeview

Friday, 17 August 2012 10:22 -

What to do with the aging Lakeview Health Center in West Salem will be brought back to the La Crosse County Board next month. County Administrator, Steve O'Malley, says some outside help may be coming in.

He says they will stay in the health center business but want some solid direction as to whether they should build smaller buildings to replace the aging center.