

Trafficking cocaine, and keeping loaded guns where kids could reach them...

Those are just two of the charges against 28-year-old Nichole Scholl...making her first appearance in a La Crosse courtroom after a drug search at her home two weeks ago. Scholl's attorney, Luis Delgado, says his client turned herself in this week, because prosecutors were taking too long to file charges.

Scholl was released from jail. Her next court date is on May 5th. Orlandus and Raymond Lewis, two brothers suspected in the same case, are still being sought by police.
