

The latest wrinkle in La Crosse's downtown parking situation could mean problems for people doing business at the La Crosse Center.

City Hall recently reduced some parking areas near the center from 12 hours to only two hours. Center manager Art Fahey says the drivers who bring in buses and semis for concerts and other events need to be able to park for hours at a time.

The civic center hosted the state counties' association meeting this week...bringing several hundred visitors downtown for a couple of days.
