

Six incumbent Congressmen in Wisconsin are being backed for re-election by the National Rifle Association...including one Democrat, Ron Kind.

La Crosse's Congressman rated an 'A' from the NRA for his positions on more than a dozen issues...from opposing a ban on semi-automatic weapons to supporting certain concealed-carry bills. Southern Minnesota Democrat Tim Walz also gets an 'A'...as does his Republican challenger, Allen Quist. Kind's opponent, Republican Ray Boland, gets no letter grade because he didn't respond to a questionnaire from the NRA.
