

Getting rid of public hearings not on the agenda for Tuesday's La Crosse city council meeting. But several speakers found a way to work it into comments on other issues. Just to make sure the council got an earful for virtually eliminating the ability for the public to speak to the full city council last month

c

Steve Gohres, ostensibly commenting on garbage can lids last night. The council could reconsider getting rid of public hearings tomorrow night.