

Presidential and vice-presidential candidates have made La Crosse a frequent last-minute campaign destination in recent years...

Both Presidents Bush...John Kerry...Dick Cheney...and Joe Lieberman all have stopped in La Crosse in the last week before a presidential election. And you can add Paul Ryan to that list. The V-P hopeful from Janesville drops in on local Republican volunteers today at the La Crosse County GOP office on Copeland Avenue. Ryan's official mission is to thank area volunteers for helping organize storm relief for East Coast residents.
