

Sparta Man Picks Up More Charges While In Jail

Tuesday, 06 November 2012 10:47 -

A Sparta man awaiting felony charges in Monroe County picked up some new charges while in jail. 27 year old Jason Schodeberg of Sparta is jailed in connection with a 2009 Cashton accident that killed his brother, Glenn. At the time of the accident, police could not determine who was the driver, but a combination of DNA evidence and witnesses' reports allowed detectives to make an arrest.

Now, Schodeberg is facing charges of battery by an inmate after breaking the nose of another man. Jail video showed Schodeberg as he punched another inmate multiple times.

The other inmate was transported to the hospital with several fractures in his nose.