

Magno Announces Run for Mayor

Monday, 12 November 2012 23:10 -

In the coming weeks, those looking to run for mayor of La Crosse will begin to emerge from the woodwork. Neighborhood Revitalization Commission member Randy Magno is the first to hit the pavement with his campaign literature in hand. Magno says he has plans to deal with all sorts of issues in La Crosse. But public safety, he says, is at the top of the list.

Magno and activist Craig Nestor are the first to announce a run for mayor. Candidates can begin circulating nomination papers on December first.
