

A group of moderate Democrats on Capitol Hill chooses La Crosse's Ron Kind as its leader...

Kind is the chairman of the New Democrat Coalition, which has existed since Bill Clinton was in the White House. Kind says the Coalition tries to get both parties to agree on issues, mainly affecting the economy. He says about one-fourth of the Democrats in Congress belong to the Coalition.