

Wisconsin's 19 medical groups all scored higher than the national average in a recent study done by Consumer Reports. Gunder Lutheran CEO, Jeff Thompson says the rankings have put the state ahead of the nation for quite awhile now.

\(Click for Audio\)

The results are broken down in a special edition of Consumer Reports, to be released in January. The magazine received performance information from the state's Collaborative for Health care Quality.