

Senator Ron Johnson of Wisconsin chimed in after the President's State of the Union address last night.

\(Click for Audio\)

Johnson said Obama proposed paying for it by increasing taxes or just simply putting it on the national credit card. You know, the one that already has a balance of $16.4 trillion. Johnson said he was not impressed with the address.