

In recent weeks, a phony email claiming to come from the IRS has been circulating in large numbers. If you get one, Sgt. Mark Nicholson with the Tomah Police Department says don't open it.

\(Click for Audio\)

He also says when the recipient opens the attachment or clicks on the link provided in the email, they download a Trojan horse type of virus to their computers. Nicholson recommends you forward that email to the IRS.