

Bomb Threat Evacuation at Central Doesn't Last Long

Tuesday, 16 April 2013 12:20 -

A lunchtime excursion for La Crosse Central high school students ended with an all clear today. Students were evacuated from the school at about 12:30 after a note with an apparent bomb threat was found. The school was swept with a drug-sniffing dog and students went back to class at about one o'clock.
