The City of Tomah is looking for a new police chief. This after Wes Revels retired from the post after 27 years of working for the city of Tomah. He started as chief in 2008.

The former National Guardsman, Revels began working for the department in 1986 as a dispatcher. After two years, he became a full time employee. In 1990, Revels became a sergeant on the force then lieutenant and captain.

Revels said he made his decision to retire due to proposed changes to Wisconsin Retirement Services. He told us that another job in law enforcement could be in the works.
