

With more construction coming to Fort McCoy soon, we asked base spokesperson, Linda Fournier if any other projects are coming to replace World War Two buildings.

\(Click for Audio\)

Fournier says the new clothing and equipment building going up next month is the first of its kind for the Army Reserves at any base. It replaces a building built in the 1940's.