

Cop Kicker Busted This Week-end

It's pretty rare that those charged with battery to police ever get convicted of it. So, not likely that 24 year-old Rebecca La Coste will face hard time for kicking a cop a couple of times while getting arrested last night in downtown La Crosse. Police say she beat up her boyfriend pretty good because he was drinking. She was too. Police say both she and her man were solidly inebriated when they were booked into the jail.
