

Loggers Show Off Empty Field

Wednesday, 23 October 2013 09:40 - Last Updated Wednesday, 23 October 2013 09:44

The weather forecast for tonight's World Series opener in Boston calls for winds and cold air...which sounds just like what folks experienced at La Crosse's Copeland Park yesterday.

A few dozen baseball backers braved chilly October conditions to check out the renovations being done on the Loggers ball field, also to be used by U-W-La Crosse. University athletic director Josh Whitman praised the community for showing its support on a blustery day:

\(Click for Audio\)

A gravel infield at the Lumberyard is being laid now, to be covered by the astroturf which will be used for ball games beginning in the spring.