Still fielding late season complaints from the warming center in La Crosse. The center was scheduled to close at the end of March but stayed open a couple of extra weeks due to lingering cold weather. This weekend at the center, a very drunk guy kicked another man in the stomach. The drunk threatened a cop and warming center staff with a giant rock even though he was too drunk to stand. The guy was cited for disorderly conduct and hauled to de-tox. The warming center is supposed to close today.
