

Democratic A.G. Candidates Have Plenty of Common Ground

Monday, 11 August 2014 10:02 -

---

One of the key contests on tomorrow's primary ballot in Wisconsin is the battle for the democratic nomination for attorney general. In that race, the front runner candidates agree on more than they disagree. Including the need for more punishments for those having multiple arrests for drunk driving. Susan Happ is the Jefferson county DA \(Click for Audio\) Jon Richards is a longtime state legislator from Milwaukee \(Click for Audio\)

Dane county district attorney Ismael Ozanne is also on the ballot for attorney general on the democratic side. Republican Brad Schimel is running unopposed.