

Three weeks from today, we'll know if a Holmen woman has become the next Miss America. Raeanna Johnson will represent Wisconsin in the national pageant this year. Although this is her second time as Miss Wisconsin, she has not competed at Atlantic City before. Johnson tells us that it probably won't seem real to her until she actually gets on the plane to New Jersey next week.

\(Click for Audio\)

Johnson spoke about her preparations for the Miss America pageant at a reception in downtown La Crosse yesterday.