

Body of Missing Student Found

Wednesday, 17 February 2010 06:03 - Last Updated Tuesday, 23 March 2010 14:11

After a nearly two day search of the Mississippi River divers have found the body of Craig Meyers. It was a difficult search using underwater cameras along with the dive team according to trainer Bill Powell. Meyer's body was found yesterday afternoon about 4:40 close to shore near the Marriott Hotel. Cops believe alcohol played a role in the 21 year old college students death. He had been missing since getting dropped off by a relative early Sunday morning.