

A new logo has been chosen for the Gale-Etrick-Trempealeau School District.

High School Art Teacher, Jennifer Johnson, created the new logo, a Red hawk, and it was picked Monday night from 400 submissions.

In September, hundreds of students, staff and people living in the district voted for the Red Hawks name after the district decided to retire its original Redmen name.

G-E-T Superintendent David Grace says the change will end up costing the district close to $25,000.