Another return trip to jail for Indra Book. Book is the 22 year-old La Crosse woman convicted three years ago in the death of her newborn daughter. She put the infant in a plastic cooler and left her out with the garbage. Book's been on probation since July and has been arrested a couple of times since then for probation violations; once for attacking her boyfriend and once for drinking and smoking synthetic marijuana. Police arrested Book again yesterday at her job. Again for drinking but also for curfew violations.
